

HAVILAND CHINA.

We do not claim to control the whole Haviland output, or to be the only house that "imports" Haviland's ware, but we do claim to IMPORT DIRECT and to give you as much Haviland, as well as other China, for ONE DOLLAR as you were able to get here for TWO DOLLARS before we "woke 'em up" with our new China Department. We are told by customers every day that our line is handsome, that one can find a better variety of patterns, AND MORE OF THEM, than elsewhere in the city. We are naming prices on all kinds of Dinner Sets, and in particular, that 12-SETTING THEM at $10.00. It is pretty hard on the "other boys" but we can't help it now. WE ARE "IN IT" TO STAY. Come and compare our "dollar's worth" with the size of a "dollar's worth" to be had elsewhere.

STANTON-BARNES.
Wedding Bells at Noon on North Main Street.
This bright November day, at the hour of noon, the happy marriage of Miss Mary Barnes and Mr. George B. Stanton, of the City of Mexico, was solemnized at the home of the bride's father, Dr. W. A. Barnes, No. 925 North Main street, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the two families—thirty in number. The ceremony was witnessed in the parlor, the handsome couple standing beneath a canopy of pink and white chrysanthemums extending from the chandelier in the center to the mantel, at each side of which and in front of each were many tropical plants tastefully arranged. The bride, dressed in white, with a long train, and a crown of Lorraine, was the wedding march played by the Opera House Orchestra which occupied a space in the upper hall. Rev. W. H. Penhaligon, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated, and read the ring ceremony, and when the earnest congratulations of the relatives were offered the company were ushered into the dining room, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served under the direction of Mrs. Snyder, with efficient colored attendants at her command.
The bride was attired in a traveling dress of blue broadcloth, handsomely trimmed with black braid. She wore a diamond bracelet, the gift of the groom, and a pink and white set in pearls and diamonds. She carried a bouquet of La France roses. The groom was in conventional black. There were no attendants. The house decorations were in exquisite good taste. The sitting room was in pink and white, and a portiere of pink curtains decked the door leading to the dining room. Pink carnations also beautified the dining room.
The reception was from 1 to 2 o'clock this afternoon, when 75 to 100 of the more intimate friends of the bride called to extend congratulations and to wish her joy. The orchestra during the wedding breakfast and reception filled the rooms with soft melody. Among the guests at the wedding were Mrs. J. D. Gillet, of Elkhart, and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Stanton and son, of Springfield. Mr. Stanton is a brother of Mr. Stanton and bride left this afternoon for their future home at the City of Mexico, where the groom holds the position of superintendent of telegraph for the Mexican Central Railroad Company. He is a fine looking gentleman of superior business qualifications, who has made many friends in Decatur. His chosen life companion is one of Decatur's most amiable young ladies, who is a favorite with a wide circle of friends in this and other cities. The Republican extends its best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Stanton in their new relation in life.

The Dunn Temperance Meeting.
The W. C. T. U. room was the scene of a most interesting temperance meeting last night. After devotional exercises Mr. Dunn struck a key-note that was played upon by several others, who followed in short speeches. The leader closed with an appeal to the men and boys present, to which nearly all present responded. Many names—and those of some drinkers among them—were secured to the pledge. The audience grows nightly. There will be a meeting every night this week. Come everybody.

New Real Estate Firm.
Next week Decatur will have a new real estate firm with office over the Decatur National Bank. The gentlemen are J. M. Dodd, who for many years was a salesman at the home of E. D. Bartholomew & Co., and John W. Sanner, lately in the grocery business. Both gentlemen are well and favorably known in the community. They are excellent judges of values in city and farm property and cannot fail to succeed in their new undertaking. Success to them.

Wanted Cheap Light.
A countryman who evidently desired to be up with the times and have his residence lighted in modern style called on the Decatur Electric Company with the view of purchasing a few globes. He asked the price of one-half dozen and was surprised at their cheapness, but was disappointed when he was informed that it required a full-fledged electric light plant before he could light his lamps.

Paid Out $150.
Bob Ferguson, local agent for the U. S. Mutual Accident Association, paid out $150 to-day to beneficiaries. The drafts for $100 went to D. W. Rosen, the architect, who was thrown from a buggy on West Main street while riding with Editor Jerry Downhise. Bob is always making the people happy.

Trouble in the Camp.
The members of the Alexander Hog Cholera Medicine Company, of Decatur, formed over two years ago with a capital of $30,000, are considerably exercised at present over late peculiar developments as to the rights of the company in reference to territory. The members of the company are Dr. A. J. Alexander, of Mayfield, Ky., J. M. Cloney, J. F. Curry, William Ellis and John Holmes, of Decatur. The Decatur gentlemen paid Dr. Alexander something like $5,000. The company received a deed for all territory in the United States except Kentucky, Tennessee and Arkansas. Dr. Alexander has been absent over a year. Recently it has come to pass that certain parties at Cantonville, Ill.—Dr. Mitchell and others—claim to have purchased the exclusive right to manufacture and sell the Alexander Hog Cholera Medicine in Illinois, paying something like $7,000 in cash and lands for the right. Carbonade people have been in Decatur this week getting at the facts. The Decatur company's record in Illinois and other territory is on record in the office of the recorder of deeds. Its provisions are clear and explicit. It is probable that the matter will have to be settled in the courts. Considerable correspondence is now in progress.

Clinton Over-run by Gamblers.
Clinton is following to the wake of some of the larger cities and is having almost an epidemic of gambling. There were until the present week four well patronized resorts, which differ from each other only in the gub and the purse-weight of the frequenters. Mr. Harris, the previous mayor, made an effort to o.s.e up the gaming rooms, but it was made the central scene of the recent municipal election and has prevailed in recent months as never before. The rooms are, some of them, so ingeniously arranged that several doors or a hall must be crossed before an officer could enter and see the work of the occupants. These rooms pay the owners large revenue and the occupants are not, in a financial way, undesirable renters. A room on the west side of the square, frequented by a very common class of patrons, was pulled last week, but such dexterity was used that the officer could not make a sufficient case. The officers are efficient and no one can charge them with negligence. It is thought the administration could stop the gambling by refusing to allow rooms to be used or rented for what promises to be that purpose. The sentiment against gambling in Clinton has been very severe.

He Captured the Thief.
A boy about thirteen years of age, Bert Damon by name, attempted to steal a pair of gloves this morning about 10 o'clock, from off a bunch hanging out in front of Roach Bros' dry goods store. J. P. Roach discovered the fact, and took after the thief. F. P. Roach, who was working in the back end of the store, was told of the robbery and without stopping for his hat, made a dash out of the side door and joined in the race after the lad with the gloves, who by this time had fully two blocks the start. The chase was kept up for a dozen blocks or more. In the meantime the thief had cleared a number of bars, wire, high board fence, and had sought a hiding place in the weeds in the Illinois Central vine south of the city. But Frank was right in to the finish, and by this time had succeeded in getting pretty close to the prize. But the boy did not intend to be caught, and again started on the run. He was finally driven under the porch of a residence on Webster street and there captured by Frank. The gloves were recovered, and the lad let go free.

THE SILENT REAPER.
Death of Miss Adele Williams in the Morning of Her Life.
Miss Adele Williams, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williams, died of lung trouble last evening at 4:45 o'clock, at the home of her parents southwest of the city, aged 25 years. Her death was not unexpected. In May, 1899, she was first taken sick with an attack of la grippe and gradually grew worse. In the following October, accompanied by her parents, Miss Williams went to Southern California, hoping to have her health restored in that mild climate. The parents remained with their invalid daughter all winter until last spring when they returned to Decatur. Miss Mary Williams was with her sister in California until last August, when the invalid, who had been but slightly benefited by her stay in California, was brought back to her home near Decatur. During her illness Miss Williams had the best of medical attention and the loving care of her parents and sister, who did everything in their power to alleviate her sufferings and prolong her life. The young woman realized that her recovery was impossible, and her parents felt that their daughter would be taken from the family circle. It required no words to tell of the shadow of death in the home yesterday—and when the time of dissolution came all were prepared for the end. Miss Williams, who in health was cashier in the clothing store of Ottensmeyer & Co., had hosts of personal friends in Decatur, who will learn with deep sorrow of her death. In health she was bright, active and amiable to all. In sickness she was patient, brave and hopeful, but when she realized the inevitable, she bore up with Christian fortitude and was ready for the final summons.

The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the residence southeast of the city, Rev. James Miller, of the First M. E. church, officiating.

J. W. SMITH IN JAIL.
Marshal Mason Home from the West with a Prisoner.

Marshal Mason who went to Kansas City, Mo., with a requisition for John W. Smith and Lycurgus Lindsay, both indicted in Macon county, on a charge of obtaining $7,000 worth of property of Henry Flynn by false pretense, arrived home to-day, having in custody Mr. Smith, who is now in the Decatur jail. Smith tried to get free by habeas corpus proceedings, but the court held that Smith should make a trip to Illinois, and the wiley Marshal brought him away at once, thus taking no chances on further delay. Lindsay's case is to be heard before another court. It will probably come up to-day. It is held, Mason will start at once for Kansas City to bring the man to Decatur. In the legal title at Kansas City, Marshal Mason had the able assistance of the State's attorney, who thoroughly understands his business.
